To the reader:

The purpose of an Annual is to present a complete, yet complete picture of the school year. The true measure of its worth cannot be taken today--that must wait until the days of "remember when." We hope we have planned wisely, that from its pages and pictures you can gather memories of this section in the road of life--memories of its smooth roads and its detours, its side roads, and its occasional wrecks.

In these "remember whens" I will always recall the inspirations given by Dr. C. B. Smith; Members of the Faculty; Members of the President's Council; and Members of the Student Body; but, I shall, MOST OF ALL, remember 'Little Ceasar' (David Kotherway.) For it was he, who prompted me and the Student Government Association to rescue this YEARBOOK from the DOOMED course it had taken.

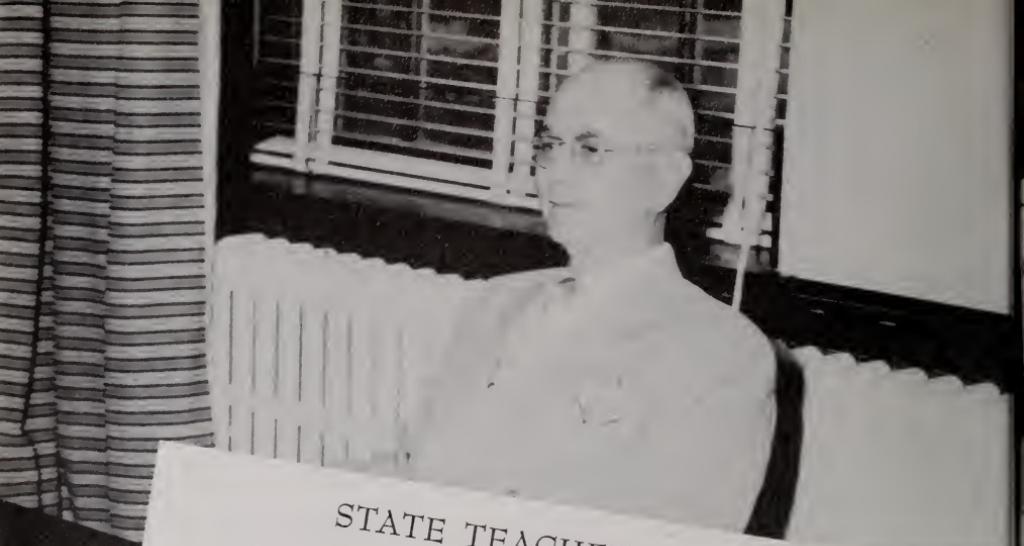

It is to these people that this Yearbook is so rightfully DEDICATED.

THE DIRECTORS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1887
TROY, ALABAMA

Graduates coming out of college at this mid-point of the 20th Century are a greatly privileged group of young adults. They face a half century of unprecedented change, and change brings multiplied opportunities.

The recent tapping of new sources of natural energy was more than equivalent to the discovery of a new continent when subsequent effects are considered. The discovery of new geographic worlds in 1492 and afterwards opened up thousands of new frontiers. The tapping of atomic energy will open up many more, to the advantage of those now beginning their careers.

Living through the next fifty years will be a great adventure for those who prepared for it.

Congratulations and all good wishes to our 1950 graduates.

C. B. Smith,
President

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1887
TROY, ALABAMA

Dear Seniors of Nineteen Fifty:

The next fifty years are yours!

This is the middle of a century, the half-way point in the most eventful hundred years of man's life on this planet. You have reached maturity at a time which requires knowledge, courage, loftiness of purpose, sincerity, serenity, stability, determination and integrity. You are not the elite but you are the select. Through fate, circumstances, or the will of society, you have been selected to be leaders during the next fifty years.

The next fifty years are yours!

As leaders you will have obligations and responsibilities which you may not easily escape. You may be delighted at these obligations and responsibilities or you may be dismayed by them, but you can not escape them. There will come times when you will want to shun responsibility, to relax and take it easy. But as citizens follow the line of least resistance, to let George do it, to on whom the aegis of responsibility has fallen you will carry on, keeping your vows of faith to the high principles of your Alma Mater.

The next fifty years are yours!

Yours very sincerely,

G. R. Boyd
Dean

The following message written by a student for the Palladium of 1925 expresses so beautifully the thought that I would like to give that I quote it here in part:

"All great educational institutions, as all strong individuals, have their particular ideals and philosophies. The Troy State is not an exception to this truth. . . . The educated man is the man with certain subtle, spiritual qualifications which make him calm in adversity, happy when alone, just in his dealings, sane in the fullest meaning of the word, in all the affairs of his life. It is pleasant to think of the educated man as being a hater of hypocrisy and sham, possessing a keen and deep sympathy, evidencing an attitude of tolerance and a spirit of simplicity and hopefulness feeling that the 'length of things is vanity; only their depth is joy.'

Such are the ideals and philosophies of this institution. I feel that these same ideals are alive at Troy State today. We have grown greatly in the number of students, buildings in our physical plant, offerings in our curriculum, and number on the faculty since John Broxson wrote the afore-mentioned message. Yet the calibre of our students and the ideals for which they strive have not changed through the years and are valued equally high today at Troy as of 1925.

Very sincerely,

Annie Mae Powell,
Dean of Students
